Proceeding No. D2018-02

FINAL ORDER

The Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline ("OED Director") for the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO" or "Office") and Robert C. Montgomery ("Respondent") have submitted a Proposed Settlement Agreement ("Agreement") to the Under Secretary Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO Director") for approval.

The Agreement, which resolves all disciplinary action by the USPTO arising from the stipulated facts set forth below, is hereby approved. This Final Order sets forth the parties' stipulated facts, legal conclusion, and sanctions.

Jurisdiction

1. At all times relevant, Respondent of Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, has been a registered practitioner (Registration No. 57,523), subject to the USPTO Code of Professional Responsibility set forth at 37 C.F.R. § 10.20 et seq. and the USPTO Rules of Professional Conduct set forth at 37 C.F.R. § 11.101 et seq.¹

2. The USPTO Director has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 35 U.S.C. §§ 2(b)(2)(D) and 32 and 37 C.F.R. §§ 11.19, 11.20, and 11.26.

Stipulated Facts

1. Respondent of Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, is a registered patent agent (Registration No. 57,523). He was registered as a patent agent on September 19, 2005.

¹ Effective May 3, 2013, the USPTO Rules of Professional Conduct apply to persons who practice before the Office. See 37 C.F.R. §§ 11.101 through 11.901. The USPTO Code of Professional Responsibility governs conduct occurring prior to May 3, 2013. The allegations of misconduct which are the subject of this Proposed Settlement Agreement occurred both prior to and after May 3, 2013. Therefore, both the USPTO Code of Professional Responsibility and USPTO Rules of Professional Conduct apply.
2. Respondent is the President of Montgomery Patent & Design, L.P. \(^2\) (hereinafter "MP&D"). Between 2005 and April 2017, Respondent's father, who is a non-practitioner, owned a percentage of MP&D and held himself out as MP&D's Administrative Director.

3. The Montgomery family businesses include Montgomery IP Associates, LLC ("MIPA"), \(^3\) MP&D, Invest SAI Network, LLC ("SAI"), and Advertising-Generation LLC ("FSBI"). \(^4\) MIPA/SAI/FSBI and MP&D worked from a shared office environment. At all times relevant, Respondent held an ownership interest in MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

4. As described in paragraphs sixteen (16) through twenty-seven (27) below, MIPA/SAI/FSBI and MP&D maintained a business practice and pattern in how patent law and law-related services were sold to inventors.

5. MIPA/SAI/FSBI entered into business transactions with inventors to sell invention services and patent law and law-related services using template documents, namely: a Research Engagement Letter and a Professional Services Contract (the "PSC"). Only MP&D employed registered practitioners. MIPA/SAI/FSBI referred inventors only to MP&D, and 90% of MP&D’s patent legal business came from inventors referred to it from MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

6. Inventors became clients of Respondent and MP&D after their invention made it through an initial suitability review by MIPA/SAI/FSBI. Approximately, twenty percent (20%) of inventions that were submitted for suitability review were recommended by MIPA/SAI/FSBI for a Research Report; the balance of approximately eighty percent (80%) were determined not to be suitable. If recommended for a Research Report, the inventor was contacted by a MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson and invited to fully submit their invention for a Research Report via the Research Engagement Letter. In the Research Engagement Letter, the MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson recommended that the inventor purchase certain engineering, marketing, and legal research services. The legal research included a "patent search" and an "opinion of patentability." The inventor contracted with MIPA/SAI/FSBI for the Research Report and paid the fees to MIPA/SAI/FSBI. In turn, MIPA/SAI/FSBI paid MP&D for patent law and law-related services.

7. MP&D prepared 100% of the patent searches and opinions of patentability for MIPA/SAI/FSBI’s Research Reports. The opinions of patentability prepared by Respondent and MP&D were template documents with recommendations as to whether the inventor should pursue provisional, design, or utility applications for his or her invention. Contrary to how "opinions of patentability" were described on MIPA/SAI/FSBI’s websites, the opinions did not describe the likelihood that an inventor would receive a patent of "useful scope," if they pursued provisional, design, or utility patent protection; instead, they merely stated what type of application was

\(^2\) In 2013, Montgomery Patent & Design, LLC, became Montgomery Patent & Design LP. They are referred to collectively as MP&D in this document.

\(^3\) In 2013, Montgomery IP Associates, LLC, became Montgomery IP Associates, LP. They are referred to collectively as MIPA in this document.

\(^4\) Hereinafter MIPA, SAI, and FSBI are at times jointly referred to as "MIPA/SAI/FSBI."
suitable for an invention. Respondent understood his clients’ general lack of sophistication, but neither Respondent nor MP&D ever explained to inventors the likelihood that they would receive a patent of “useful scope,” as described on MIPA/SAI/FSBI websites, if they pursued provisional, design, or utility patent protection.

8. Once the patentability search and the “opinion of patentability” were completed, MP&D forwarded them to MIPA/SAI/FSBI for inclusion in a Research Report without a prior discussion of the search or opinion with the inventor. The Research Report was then forwarded to the inventor by a MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson who contacted the inventor, in writing and on the telephone, to discuss recommended licensing and patent packages being sold by MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

9. After the inventor discussed the options for patent protection (e.g., provisional, design, or utility patent applications) with a MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson, and without first consulting with a registered practitioner prior to signing, the inventor decided what type of patent protection package he or she wanted to purchase and signed the PSC. The inventor contracted with MIPA/SAI/FSBI for the invention services and patent law services, and paid MIPA/SAI/FSBI directly. The PSC set out the invention services and patent law services (e.g., provisional, design, or utility patent applications) sold to the inventor by MIPA/SAI/FSBI. The PSC stated MIPA/SAI/FSBI would coordinate and direct MP&D to perform patent law services (i.e., consulting with the inventor; producing a specification and drawings; and preparing and filing a patent application).

10. The PSC purported to identify, define, and/or limit the scope of the legal services to be provided by MP&D, all before an inventor consulted directly with a registered practitioner. The PSC did not state that MP&D might refer patent law work to outside registered practitioners who were not in the MP&D firm. Depending on the services purchased, the PSC contained a provision where the inventor agreed to pay a royalty fee to FSBI from any commercialization earnings resulting from any efforts by FSBI.

11. On, or around, the same day MIPA forwarded the PSC to the inventor, MIPA also forwarded an MP&D Patent Engagement Letter to the inventor. The client, without directly consulting with a registered practitioner, was asked to sign the Patent Engagement Letter. The Patent Engagement Letter did not state that MP&D might refer the work to outside registered practitioners who are not in the MP&D firm, did not discuss actual or potential conflicts of interest that stem from Respondent’s ownership interests in MIPA/SAI/FSBI, did not obtain informed consent to represent the inventors notwithstanding the actual or potential conflicts of interest, did not discuss the scope of legal services provided, and did not discuss what portion of the fees paid to MIPA/SAI/FSBI was allocated to legal services.

12. The patent law services provided under the PSC changed in the 2014-2015 time frame. Previously, all patent prosecution services were covered up to the issuance of a Final Office action. With the change, the cost of a design application included one non-final Office Action response and the cost of utility application included no prosecution at all. There was no discussion between the inventor and a registered practitioner before the inventor decided on the scope of legal services required.
13. Respondent’s ownership of, financial interests in, and familial ties to MIPA/SAI/FSBI were not disclosed to the clients. Respondent and MP&D did not disclose that MP&D received 90% of its income from business referred from MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

14. Respondent and MP&D referred some of the legal work required by some of the clients referred to MP&D by MIPA/SAI/FSBI to other registered practitioners who were not in the MP&D firm without the inventors’ consent to share their confidential client information. Respondent and MP&D paid such other registered practitioners for the legal work provided, thereby, splitting fees with the other registered practitioners without the inventors’ informed consent to share the fee.

15. MIPA/SAI/FSBI did not deposit unearned legal fees paid in advance by the clients for either the Research Engagement Letter or the PSC into a client trust account.

16. Respondent did not have or use a client trust account and did not deposit unearned legal fees paid in advance for his and MP&D’s patent application preparation, filing, and prosecution services to be rendered into a trust account.

Miscellaneous Factors

17. Respondent has no prior disciplinary history before the Office.

18. Respondent cooperated with OED’s investigation into his conduct.

19. Respondent represents that he has expended considerable time and resources in working with Pennsylvania and private ethics counsel in a good faith effort to change the MP&D and MIPA/SAI/FSBI’s business practices so that Respondent does not continue to violate the USPTO Rules of Professional Conduct.

20. Respondent represents that he is remorseful for not being mindful of the ethics rules implicated by the association between his firm and the associated business

Notice of Suspension and Probation

This notice concerns Robert C. Montgomery of Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, a registered patent agent (Registration Number 57,523), who practices before the United States Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO” or “Office”) in patent matters. The USPTO has suspended Mr. Montgomery from practice before the Office in patent matters for 48 months, with the possibility of reinstatement to practice before the Office in patent matters in 24 months. If reinstated to practice before the Office, Mr. Montgomery will serve a 24-month probationary period commencing on the date of such reinstatement. As a registered agent, Mr. Montgomery is permitted, when not suspended, to practice only in patent matters, he is not permitted to practice in trademark or other non-patent matters before the Office. As a condition of being reinstated, Mr. Montgomery must verify that (a) he has taken and passed with a score of 85 or higher the Multi-State Professional Responsibility Examination, and (b) he has audited a legal ethics class taught by an ABA accredited law school. During his probation, Mr. Montgomery also must submit to the OED Director every six months copies of the records required to be kept under 37 C.F.R. § 11.115(f) and (ii) certify that his and MP&D’s client trust account(s) are in full compliance with the USPTO Rules of Professional Conduct.

Respondent is the President of Montgomery Patent & Design, L.P. (hereinafter “MP&D”). Between 2005 and April 2017, Respondent’s father, who is a non-practitioner, owned a percentage of MP&D and held himself out as MP&D’s Administrative Director. The Montgomery family businesses include Montgomery IP Associates, LLC (“MIPA”), MP&D, Invest SAI Network, LLC (“SAI”), and Advertising-Generation LLC (“FSBI”). MIPA/SAI/FSBI and MP&D worked from a shared office environment. At all times relevant, Respondent held an ownership interest in MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

MIPA/SAI/FSBI and MP&D maintained a business practice and pattern in selling patent law related services to inventors.
MIPA/SAI/FSBI entered into business transactions with inventors to sell invention services and patent law and law related services using template documents, namely: a Research Engagement Letter and a Professional Services Contract (the “PSC”). Only MP&D employed registered practitioners. MIPA/SAI/FSBI referred inventors only to MP&D, and 90% of MP&D’s patent legal business came from inventors referred to it from MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

Inventors became clients of Respondent and MP&D after the inventors’ invention made it through an initial suitability review by MIPA/SAI/FSBI. Approximately, twenty percent (20%) of inventions that were submitted for suitability review were recommended by MIPA/SAI/FSBI for a Research Report, and eight-percent (80%) were rejected for suitability for a Research Report. If recommended for a Research Report, the inventor was contacted by a MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson and invited to fully submit their invention for a Research Report via the Research Engagement Letter. In the Research Engagement Letter, the MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson recommended that the inventor purchase certain engineering, marketing, and legal research services. The legal research included a “patent search” and an “opinion of patentability.” The inventor contracted with MIPA/SAI/FSBI for the Research Report and paid the fees to MIPA/SAI/FSBI. In turn, MIPA/SAI/FSBI paid MP&D for patent law and patent law-related services.

MP&D prepared 100% of the patent searches and opinions of patentability for MIPA/SAI/FSBI’s Research Reports. The opinions of patentability prepared by Respondent and MP&D were template documents with recommendations as to whether the inventor should pursue provisional, design, or utility applications for his or her invention. Contrary to how “opinions of patentability” were described on MIPA/SAI/FSBI’s website, the opinions did not describe the likelihood that an inventor would receive a patent of “useful scope,” as described on MIPA/SAI/FSBI websites, if they pursued provisional, design, or utility patent protection; instead, they merely stated what type of application was suitable for an invention. Respondent understood the general lack of sophistication of his clients, but neither Respondent nor MP&D ever explained to inventors the likelihood that the inventor would receive a patent of “useful scope,” as described on MIPA/SAI/FSBI websites, if they pursued provisional, design, or utility patent protection.
Once the patentability search and the "opinion of patentability" were completed, MP&D forwarded them to MIPA/SAI/FSBI for inclusion in a Research Report without a prior discussion of the search or opinion with the inventor. The Research Report was then forwarded to the inventor by a MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson who contacted the inventor, in writing and on the telephone, to discuss recommended licensing and patent packages being sold by MIPA/SAI/FSBI.

After the inventor discussed the options for patent protection (e.g., provisional, design, or utility patent applications) with a MIPA/SAI/FSBI non-practitioner commissioned salesperson, the inventor decided what type of patent protection package he or she wanted to purchase and signed the PSC without consulting with a registered practitioner, prior to signing. The inventor contracted with MIPA/SAI/FSBI for the invention services and patent law and patent law-related services, and paid MIPA/SAI/FSBI directly. The PSC set out the invention services and patent law services (e.g., provisional, design, or utility patent applications) sold to the inventor by MIPA/SAI/FSBI. The PSC stated it would coordinate and direct MP&D to perform patent law and patent law-related services (i.e., consulting with the inventor; producing a specification and drawings; and preparing and filing a patent application).

The PSC purported to identify, define, and/or limit the scope of the legal services to be provided by MP&D, all before an inventor consulted directly with a registered practitioner. The PSC did not state that MP&D might refer patent law work to outside registered practitioners who were not in the MP&D firm. Depending on the services purchased, the PSC would contain a provision where the inventor agreed to pay a royalty fee to FSBI from any commercialization earnings resulting from any efforts by FSBI.

On, or around, the same day MIPA forwarded the PSC to the inventor MIPA also forwarded an MP&D Patent Engagement Letter to the inventor. The client, without consulting with a registered practitioner, was asked to sign the Patent Engagement Letter. The Patent Engagement Letter did not state that MP&D might refer the work to other registered practitioners who are not in the MP&D firm, did not discuss conflicts of interest that stem from Respondent's ownership interests in MIPA/SAI/FSBI, did not obtain informed consent to represent the inventors notwithstanding the actual or potential conflicts of interest, did not discuss the scope of legal services provided, and did not discuss what portion of the fees paid to MIP/A/SAI/FSBI was allocated to legal services.

The patent law services provided under the PSC changed in the 2014-2015 time frame. Previously, all patent prosecution services were covered up to the issuance of a Final Office Action. With the change, the cost of a design application included one non-final Office action response and the cost of a utility application included no prosecution at all. There was no discussion between the inventor and a registered practitioner before the inventor decided on the scope of legal services required.

Respondent’s ownership of, financial interests in, and familial ties to MIP/A/SAI/FSBI were not disclosed to the clients. Respondent and MP&D did not disclose that MP&D received 90% of its income from business referred from MIP/A/SAI/FSBI.

Respondent and MP&D referred some of the legal work required by some of the clients referred to MP&D by MIP/A/SAI/FSBI to registered practitioners who were not in the MP&D firm without the consent of the inventors to share confidential client information. Respondent and MP&D paid the outside registered practitioners for the legal work provided, thereby, splitting fees with the outside registered practitioners without the informed consent of the inventors to share the fee.

MIP/A/SAI/FSBI did not deposit unearned legal fees paid in advance by the clients for either the Research Engagement Letter or the PSC into a client trust account. Respondent did not have or use a client trust account and did not deposit unearned legal fees paid in advance for his and MP&D’s patent application preparation, filing, and prosecution services to be rendered into a trust account.
